(NOT street legal)

ATV

UTV/SXS

OHVs are not allowed in the town of Silverton and not allowed on certain San Juan County Roads.

See map for details and for parking information.

If you do not comply with these regulations, you are subject to a $300 fine and/or towing.

You must have a permit in Colorado

- All OHVs MUST be registered through Colorado Parks & Wildlife.
- Registrations can often be obtained locally. Please check silvertoncolorado.com/ohvrules for locations. Or you can register online at cpw.state.co.us (scan the code below). Fees include Search and Rescue fees.
- Visibly display your registration on your OHV.
- Operators must have a valid Driver's License and carry Liability Insurance on the OHV.
- Colorado does NOT recognize out of state license plates for OHVs as making them street legal.

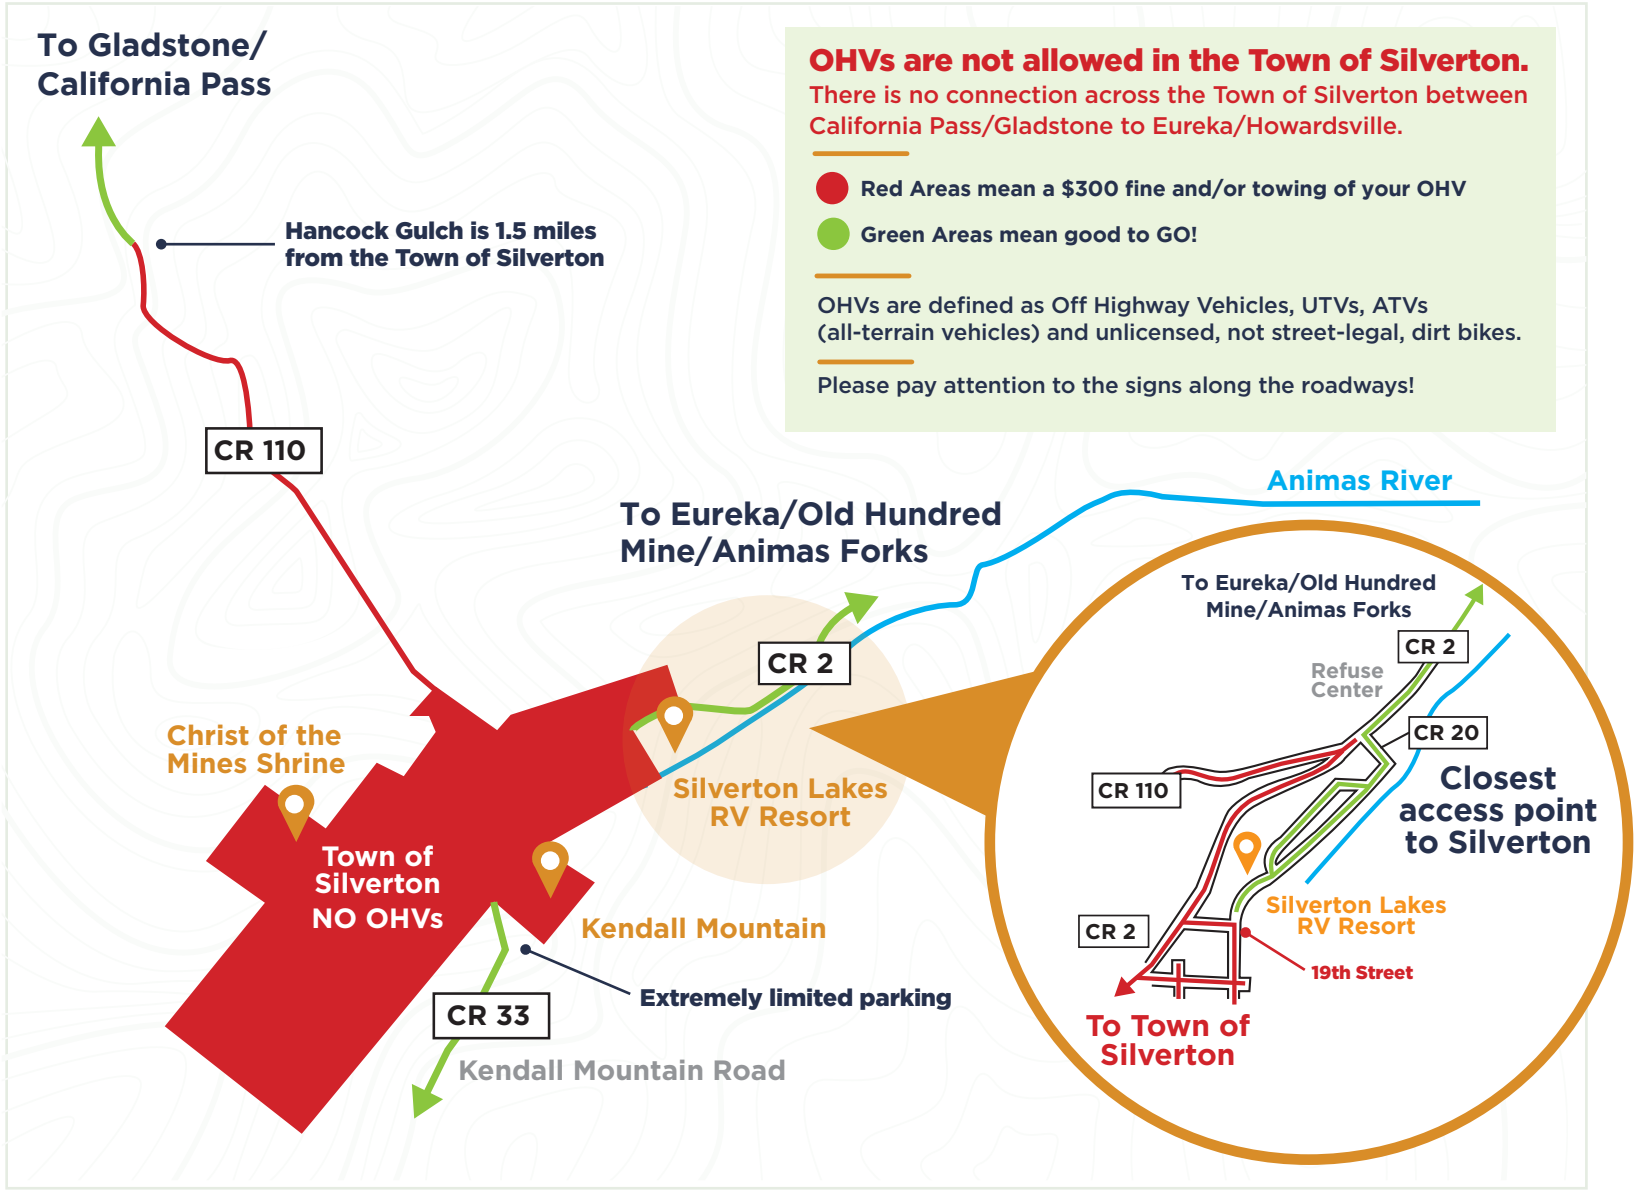
OHV RULES

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO!



OHVs are not allowed in the Town of Silverton.
There is no connection across the Town of Silverton between California Pass/Gladstone to Eureka/Howardsville.

- Red Areas mean a $300 fine and/or towing of your OHV
- Green Areas mean good to GO!

OHVs are defined as Off Highway Vehicles, UTVs, ATVs (all-terrain vehicles) and unlicensed, not street-legal, dirt bikes.

Please pay attention to the signs along the roadways!

Parking Information:

- All OHV parking on San Juan County Roads is on a first-come first-serve basis.
- Currently, there is no official staging area in San Juan County.
- All vehicles — trucks, trailers transporting OHVs and/or the OHVs themselves — must be completely on a road shoulder and out of the lane of traffic.
- Please keep in mind that not all San Juan County Roads are wide enough to park, and it is up to the OHV operator to use judgement to find a legal spot to park.
- Do not park on Private Property without explicit property-owner permission.

If there is any impediment to the lane of traffic, you will be subject to ticketing and/or being towed.
